Life Is Not, The Court Admits, Simple . . .

By RAYLYN PENNEY

Marriage counseling by amateurs is usually ineffective and sometimes harmful.

Even the average minister, to whom warring families are likely to turn for help and advice, is ill-equipped and unqualified for this sort of problem. Clerical dictums such as "Go and live together peaceably because God wills it" fail to get at the deep-rooted causes that shatter a marriage.

And the Community Chest-sponsored Family Service Agency, operated on a totally voluntary basis, has no authority to corral a reluctant, counsel-shy spouse even if his mate is willing, and counsel of one partner without the other is a waste of time.

These ideas were offered in Carmel recently by the Honorable Roger Alton Pfaff, presiding judge of the Conciliation Court, a branch of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, and one of the newer and better publicized institutions of sociological progress.

Judge Pfaff, son-in-law of Richard Goodspeed of Carmel and a frequent Carmel visitor, says Conciliation Court succeeds where pastors fail by employing a staff of a dozen expert marriage counselors, and where social agencies fail by being able to bring spouses and co-respondent in for counseling by means of the law's well-known long arm.

Asked if marriage counseling isn't, after all, an odd business for the judiciary to be in, he cited a pamphlet on the Conciliation Court by Judge Louis H. Burke, who headed the same court from 1953 to 1956.

In medieval times, he reminded us, the Catholic church courts had a hand in trying to conciliate marriage difficulties before allowing a separation. Even in 19th Century France it was the law that divorce-seekers must first go before a judge whose duty it was to attempt a reconciliation.

In this country Michigan pioneered with a judicial conciliation process in 1919 and Wisconsin followed in 1933. The California enabling act was passed in 1939 but the Los Angeles court had no real impetus until 1954; three years ago San Francisco also set up a conciliation department.

But because of books and magazine articles, the Los Angeles court of Judge Pfaff has received by far most of the nation-wide attention.

Rhinehart Library Display Mixes Music And Weaving

The Carmel Crafts Guild is showing the weaving of Les Rhinehart in its Harrison Memorial display case during September with different articles each week.

Mr. Rhinehart, who has been one of The Studio Weavers working out of the shop called Creative Skills on Lincoln, now presides over their expanded operations in Pacific Grove in a studio shop called Artisans.

A graduate of Washington State with a major in music, Mr. Rhinehart still plays flute, trumpet, and piano and teaches music. He says in designing for weaving he uses the same principles and basic techniques as in music. Major and minor chords, dominant and subordinate melodies or themes, and that he always weaves to the accompaniment of his large collection of classical records.

As the library display will illustrate, his aim is to create hand woven wearing apparel in key with the life and needs of Peninsula residents, often getting his color inspirations from sea, sand, surf, and pines. From the necktie to sheath evening dresses, desert-inspired wall hangings and upholstery, the articles are both practical and artistic.

Having just received two firsts, a second and a third prize at Monterey County Fair and an honorable mention from the State Fair, Mr. Rhinehart illustrates that proficiency in two artistic media can be a successful way of life.

2195 Enroll Yet 3 Rooms Are Vacant

Faced with a record enrollment of 2195 pupils in the Carmel Unified School District this morning, administrators were joyful that River School had three empty classrooms, the result of careful planning for the future.

Superintendent Stuart Mitchell reports that six new classrooms are needed each year in the Carmel District. This summer the six new rooms were completed at Tularcitos School. Last year River School was "overbuilt" when additions were made, thus leaving the surplus three rooms this morning.

"We will perhaps need one of them yet," says Mr. Mitchell, "in the meantime we have moved two secretaries into a vacant River School classroom thus creating an overflow office for the district's outgrown administration quarters."

The last bond election money for new construction is practically gone, he stated. "The three empty rooms will be needed next year."

In spite of the fact that Carmel district may have to face a recommended two and a half million dollar new bond election in the near future, "we are much better off than most districts," Mr. Mitchell emphasized.

Enrollment at Carmel High School this morning was 636 students, an increase of 55 over last year.

Sunset School reported 358 pupils in attendance this morning. This is 54 more than at school opening last September.

Tularcitos School enrolled 411 pupils, three less than last fall.

Woods School had an attendance of 230 this morning, an increase of seven pupils.

River School pupils totalled 444, this figure represents 36 more than in 1958.

Carmelo School enrolled 116 pupils at school opening. Increase

Planners Meet Today To Reverse Illegal Decision Of Aug. 26

Carmel Planning Commissioners will meet as a board of adjustments this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the city hall to reverse a previous decision when they illegally divided property at the northeast corner of Carmelo and Fourth Streets.

Dr. C. Arthur Spaulding requested the board of adjustments that his property at this location be divided into three irregular building sites, none less than 4,000 square feet.

The board of adjustments instead, on August 26, suggested that the land be divided into two sites, on one of which would be a house and garage apartment, the other undeveloped. Investigation later disclosed that the first parcel of land would be illegal as there are kitchens in both the house and apartment.

This afternoon the land use committee of the planning commission will recommend that the board of adjustments grant Dr. Spaulding's original request.

Last week Robert E. Ross, Chairman of the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross, gave a letter to Edgar Bissantz which designates him as an official representative to the International Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Bissantz and daughter Joan left Carmel Sunday for a year in Switzerland. Joan will attend the American School in Lugano while her parents establish themselves in an apartment from which they expect to travel about Europe. Mr. Bissantz, interested in Red Cross, plans to spend some time in Geneva. On his return to Carmel he will report on activities at the International Headquarters.

Adult School Opens Monday; Offers New Literature Class

Carmel Adult School classes start Monday. A class in World Literature is being offered for the first time with Mrs. Mariquita Brey as instructor. She is a member of the Carmel High School English department. This class for adults will parallel what is taught the Carmel High School students.

Lloyd Miller is returning to teach singing. Kenneth Wiese to instruct in jewelry and Alan Aldwell to teach driver education.

Clarence Bates is replacing Mrs. Helen Snyder, teacher of driftwood sculpture, who retired to go into private business; and John Farr is replacing Joseph Axup who is now employed in the Sacramento schools, as assistant to Earl Murray, the new symphony orchestra conductor.

A heavy enrollment is indicated by the early interest and large attendance during the summer session. Evening school students are requested to attend the first class meetings of the classes of their choice. They will be registered in the classes on the first night. All late registrations will be made in the adult school office.

A published schedule on page 11 in the Pine Cone gives a complete listing of all classes. Additional information may be obtained by phoning Mr. Charles L. Dawson, principal, MA 4-1821.

Evening School Poetry Workshop Begins On Monday

The Carmel Adult School is again offering beginning and working poets the opportunity to participate in the Poetry Workshop at Sunset School. This weekly workshop begins next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Room 8.

"The poet, in order to make himself understood and appreciated, must exercise the same skill and precision as the artist in any field," Mrs. Young points out. "Poetry comes alive when the techniques of the craft are understood. Class discussions center around the relationships of words, rhythm, rime, emotion, music of the line, structure, form. There is much stimulation and incentive to create, in studying together."

An invitation to attend is extended to those who are writing and wish to brush up on technique, and to those who have never written, but wish they could.

X-RAY UNIT HERE MONDAY

The Monterey County Health Department's X-ray unit will be parked near the post office on Monday afternoon from 1:00 till 5:00 o'clock. Free chest X-ray will be given to any person wishing this service. The plates will be read in the county laboratory. Results of the reading will be sent to Carmel residents on postcards.

Dilworth In Concert Sunday To Benefit Connie Mack Fund

Samuel Dilworth, pianist, will give a concert on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in Merrill Hall at Asilomar. Sponsors of the performance are Stan and Winifred Newlin. Proceeds will be given to the newly organized Connie Mack Fund, to be used to finance a nationwide organized baseball league for youths 16, 17 and 18 years old.

At present Samuel Dilworth is stationed at Fort Ord with the 52nd Army Band. His home is in New York where he plans to play the same program which he is presenting at Asilomar on Sunday in

PADRE GRIDDERS SLATE RED AND GRAY GAME FOR NEXT TUESDAY

First game condition action for the Carmel High football squad is on the docket for next Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the annual Red & Gray intrasquad tussle unfolds at Bardarson Field. The intrasquad is played under actual game conditions with regular length quarters and with regular CCAL officials blowing the whistles. Designed to give varsity and junior-varsity players a taste of actual game combat before the regular season starts, the Red & Gray game is often fiercely contested as the gridders go all out to make a starting position on the squads. In addition to getting the players primed for outside combat, the intrasquad gives the cheerleaders an opportunity to try out the new stuff and review the regular routine.

Coach Don Craig, builder of rugged lines at Carmel High, will mentor the Red squad and he will have Russ Wise as his captain and quarterback. The Gray unit will be guided by Lew McCreery, guest coach with a flair for developing good wingmen, and Lew will have Frank Mayo as captain and quarterback. In the battle of the quarterbacks, it will be the veteran Wise with a year of varsity ball behind him against the rookie Mayo who sparked for the junior-varsity squad last season. Wise was employed as a defensive back most of last season but guided the Padres on offense as they clipped Hollister in one of the season's toughest games. Mayo went both ways for Coach Rainer's classy jayvee team and was considered the best passer in the junior-varsity circuit. Wise appears headed for triple threat duty with the Padres this year, being talented as a passer, runner, and kicker.

Coach Craig's Red unit will open with Mike Dunham and Chris Wilkin at the end spots; Brian LeNeve and Alfredo Dopico, tackles; John Wilkin and Doug McClurg, guards; Paul Rice, center; Mike Draper and Ron Faia, halfbacks; Ed Wilson, fullback, and captain Wise at quarterback. Other players ready for duty with the Reds are Chuck Hoisington, center; Frank Bucher, quarterback; Curt Van Arsdale, tackle; John Draper and Lee Oleson, halfbacks; Scott Forbes, end; and Don DeBord, tackle.

The Gray squad will start with Doyle Clayton and Pat Boyle at the ends; Tim Mitchell and Tom Breen, tackles; Ron Adams and Nick Molitor, guards; Harrison Hilbert, center; Darrell Clark and Bill Coleman, halfbacks; David Hansen, fullback; and Frank Mayo at quarterback. The Gray roster also includes Mike Glover and Charlie Todd, halfbacks; Bartley Blout, quarterback; Fred Bucher and Tony Schaurer, guards; Frank Preve, tackle; Greg Scherman, halfback; and Tony Belleci, end.

The Red & Gray game is open to the public, starts at 3:00 o'clock and the price is right—free.

CARMEL-PACIFIC GROVE ARE MATCHED IN CCAL FOOTBALL JAMBOREE

Pairings have been made for the annual CCAL football jamboree which is being held at the Fort Ord Stadium this season and the Carmel Padres have drawn arch-rival Pacific Grove for their 'game' opponent. The Padres finished the season against the Breakers last November and come back against them to greet the 1959 season. Both the Padres and Breakers lost heavily by graduation last June and both will be unknown quantities when they go into the jamboree action. The Breakers have a trio of hard-running backs in Bucky Boynes, Archie Stewart, and Fred McGaughey and will be stronger up front with bigger boys staring across the line.

Opening action in the jamboree matches North Salinas, a new school in the Coast Counties Athletic League this year, against Hollister, a prime favorite to win the B-division of the CCAL. North Salinas has inherited some of last season's Salinas High stars and will be going with experienced personnel right from the start. Coach Joe Soboleski, former pro and University of Michigan star, is the head coach at North Salinas and has a veteran staff working with him.

Gonzales and San Lorenzo take over for the second 'game' with the Spartans expected to pack too much swift for Coach Wayne Richard's boys. San Lorenzo improved tremendously during the '58 season but lack of reserve strength makes it tough for the Cougars.

King City and Monterey's Junipero Serra square off where the ball is left after Gonzales and San Lorenzo are finished. This will be Junipero's first venture into the jamboree and the CCAL champs will be going all out to make a good showing. Coach Walthour's gang is stacked against a pretty rugged outfit in the King City varsity and might find the Mustang single-wing tough to handle.

The big schools from the A-division play the final two 15-minute sessions with Watsonville playing Salinas at 9:30 and Monterey-Santa Cruz going on at 10:00 o'clock. The Watsonville-Salinas fracas should be a toss-up since the Cowboys lost heavily when North Salinas took away half their squad. Watsonville has been in a football slump for the last three years and appears about ready to bounce back for one of its good years. The Monterey-Santa Cruz action should be lively since both schools are being picked by the experts to finish 1-2 in the A-division of the CCAL. The Cardinals lost the Northern California Coach of the Year when Larry Seimering moved to the new Cabrillo Junior College but the ex-pro has built a solid football foundation at Santa Cruz High and the Cardinals will have a strong hand. Coach Dan Albert has more left in the forward wall this year at Monterey and the Toreadores will be a hard-hitting club.

Admission prices to the cozy Fort Ord Stadium will be $1.00 for adults; .50 for students and servicemen. Proceeds from the jamboree are used to conduct athletic events, purchase trophies and awards for team and individual winners, and defray the cost of operating the Coast Counties Athletic League.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

Greetings to all survivors of the Labor Day weekend. Here are some good books to reward you for your ability to dodge traffic and remain alive.

A book which attempts to give an inside view of one of today's most powerful men is a new biography entitled Richard Nixon, a Political and Personal Portrait by Earl Mazo. Most of us will agree that Richard Nixon is a complex character, a man who is loved by some and hated and mistrusted by others. Surely we all should read every book available which has been written in an impartial and fair manner before the next fateful campaign. Begin with this one.

Enthusiastic rather than impartial is the biography which was written by Joseph Steele and called Ingrid Bergman, an Intimate Portrait. The author was for many years Miss Bergman's personal representative. Miss Bergman seems to be a person who inspires terrific admiration in everyone who knows her personally.

Jim Bishop, who wrote The Day Christ Died, has collected in one book prayers from all religions and called the book Go With God. In the introduction he tells of what prayer means to him and how it sustained him in a time of great crisis. He also tells of hearing his two teenage daughters talking while listening to a religious program on the radio. One said to the other, "Did it ever occur to you that Our Lord came from a Jewish family?" and the other answered in great agitation "No! Who converted Him?"

Herb Caen did the introduction to the San Francisco Chronicle's new book The Hills of San Francisco. Who is to blame for the uninspiring photographs which make up the main part of the book we are not told. The best one is on the cover, Lombard Street going up Russian Hill.

A real boon to western living are the books put out by Sunset magazine, and a new one which lives up to their high standard is called Gardening in Containers. Browse through this one and then go forth to transplant into various sizes and types of containers all those plants you have been wondering what to do with. Your patio will blossom and your family will be happy and proud.

There are eight or nine new novels and other juicy bits of non-fiction for your pleasure. Come on in and look at them.

DERMATOLOGISTS HERE THIS WEEKEND

The eleventh annual meeting of the Pacific Dermatologic Association opened yesterday in La Playa Hotel and will continue through Saturday. First scientific session was this morning. Skin specialists from all the western states are attending. Dr. Rolf E. Johnsen is the local member of the arrangements committee.

Speakers on the convention program are Dr. Gustav Absoe-Hansen, associate professor of dermatology at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark; Dr. David B. Cheek, instructor in the symposium of hypnosis, San Francisco; Dr. Alfred Marchionini, director of the dermatologic clinic at the University of Munich, Germany; and Dr. Henry E. Michelson, emeritus professor of dermatology of the University of Minnesota Medical School.

U. C.'s Contemporary Man And His Arts Starts On Sept. 18

Eleven Northern California artists including writers, composers, a sculptor, an architect and a dancer, will analyze the creative process in a new series Contemporary Man and His Arts offered in Carmel this fall by University of California Extension in cooperation with the California School of Fine Arts.

Designed for the person who wants to explore in depth, the meaning of modern creative expression, the programs will answer such questions as how a poem takes shape, what are the ideas and feelings expressed in a painting, what aesthetic principles govern good interior design, or what 12-tone music is about. In addition to an examination of the creative experience, speakers will discuss representative contemporary works such as the paintings of Jackson Pollock; the poetry of Dylan Thomas and T. S. Eliot; the plays of Bertolt Brecht and Eugene O'Neill; the operas of Benjamin Britten; the music of Arnold Schoenberg and the dance forms of Martha Graham.

The series will be presented in Carmel on the third and fourth Friday evening of each month, beginning September 18 at 8:00 o'clock at the Carmel Art Gallery. Speakers will be architect Robert Anshen; Ruth Beckford, primitive dancer and director of modern dance for the Oakland Recreation Department; Arnold Elston, associate professor of music at U.C.; Ralph J. Gleason, jazz critic and columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle; Joseph W. Kerman, associate professor of music at U.C.; Rudolph Schaeffer, director of the Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design;

James Scheville, poet, playwright and instructor at San Francisco State College; Francis Violich, chairman of the U.C. department of city and regional planning; Leonard L. Wolf, poet and assistant professor of English and humanities at S.F. State College; and Gurdon Woods, sculptor and director of the California School of Fine Arts.

Each two-hour program will include a discussion and question-and-answer session. Talks will be supplemented by films, slides, tape recordings, readings and performances.

Fee for the series of 11 programs is $11; students $4. Single admission tickets may be purchased at the door for $1.50; students 50 cents. Additional information and application for enrollment may be obtained from University Extension, 2441 Bancroft Way, Berkeley 4, California.

George Plaxton

George E. Plaxton apparently died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in his chest on September 3, according to County Coroner Christopher Hill. Reportedly he had been despondent since the recent death of his wife. His son, Arthur Plaxton, Carmel deputy city clerk and tax collector, found him when he returned home late in the afternoon.

Mr. Plaxton was born in Kansas on December 14, 1880. He was a railroad telegrapher for 30 years before moving here eight years ago. He made his home in Carmel Valley, later came to live with his son at Casanova and Thirteenth Streets. His wife, Elizabeth Esperance Plaxton, died in May.

Survivors, in addition to his son, are a granddaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Plaxton Brown of Riverside and three grandchildren.

Private graveside services were held on Friday in El Carmelo Cemetery in Pacific Grove. The Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiated.

PIPER PRESENTS POEM

The last day of August is Lyn Williams' birthday. Each year he invites friends to share the occasion with him at a cocktail party. Guests look forward to the annual event and the opportunity of wishing Lyn another year of happiness. His mother, Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams, assists her son in greeting the guests. Other family members present at this year's party were Lyn's aunt, Mrs. Susan Porter of Big Sur, recently pictured in a national magazine telling Irish folklore stories to down coast children. His two brothers, Henry Meade Williams and Laidlaw Williams with their wives; his cousin Mrs. Valentine Miller; and his niece, Lacy Williams. Also attending the party was Piper. Lyn's dog, who presented his master with a poem, A Dog's Psalm of Faith.

Life Is Not Simple, The Court Admits

alone is an attention getter. "We now have close to 400 cases filed each month, and the marriage counselors are reconciling almost half of the couples," Judge Pfaff says.

One of the secrets of success is to interest couples in Conciliation Court early, just after, or even just before, they file for divorce. "We like to catch them," the judge says, "before they start pitching verbal bricks in court. This can be damaging to reconciliation."

Nobody pushes divorce-seekers into Judge Pfaff's court. It's simply there for their use if they want it. But once one or the other or both parties seek the court's help, the process becomes a legal one.

Cases are initiated by petition, affidavits list the marital difficulties, citations are issued if needed requiring attendance, and a hearing is conducted informally by one of the marriage counselors.

The judge perhaps issues certain orders with respect to conduct of the couples to implement the reconciliation. Unique, Judge Pfaff believes, with the Los Angeles system is the Husband-Wife agreement, drawn up by the counselor which, if signed by the couple and the judge, becomes a court order, effective indefinitely.

The agreement is assembled separately for each couple, to apply to their particular problems. But the 32-page document from which each agreement is drafted is a masterpiece of understanding of the problems involved when two people live together.

It touches such potential danger areas as bearing a grudge, division of responsibility and money, falling out of love, privacy, tolerance of the friends and relatives of one's spouse, speaking in a normal tone of voice, the "silent treatment," late hours, gambling, nagging, control of temper, love making, punishing the children, personal appearance, religious differences, too much drinking.

Life is not, the court admits, simple. But of couples signing such a husband-wife pact, three out of four were still living together after a year. (Judge Pfaff said no effort has been made to check after two years, etc., but perhaps that can be done later.)

Judge Pfaff, who has headed the Conciliation Court since 1956, says divorce trouble comes in two varieties: external, and internal. Examples of the former might be financial reverses, sudden infatuation of a spouse with a third person, interference in the marriage by a third person, and misunderstandings not followed by explanations. These types lend themselves more easily to reconciliation.

Internal upsets—immaturity, insecurity, feelings of inferiority, lack of inner resources to take on the buffetings of everyday living—are often more difficult to deal with, and this is where the Conciliation Court has worked out a complementary relationship with the family service agencies and church family counseling groups.

These can provide long-term counseling which the court cannot do.

In all cases, couples with children are given priority and even where no reconciliation is made, the process often results in a better understanding between the divorcing parties about their continuing obligations to their offspring.

Stressed often in the conversations of Judge Pfaff about his court, and in literature about the court itself, is the importance of religion in daily living.

Judge Pfaff, a prominent layman in the Los Angeles Diocese of the Episcopal Church and a frequent visitor to All Saints' Church here, has recently written a booklet suggesting application of church doctrine into private problems.

"WHERE TOWN AND COUNTRY SHOPPER MEET"

Letters To The Editor . . .

1419 Oxford St.
Berkeley, California
September 6, 1959

Editor, The Carmel Pine Cone:

As a former resident of the Monterey Peninsula, having lived from 1941 to 1946 in Pebble Beach, while employed by the Del Monte Properties, and consequently having known the delightful and colorful Villa de Carmelo, I can not refrain from mailing you the enclosed clipping.

Editor's Note: The "enclosed clipping" is an article by Thomas Collins in the Berkeley Gazette entitled "Paradise After 65: Let the Gulls Have It." Mr. Collins pictures Carmel as inhabited by two classes of people, the unfriendly rich and the cynical tourist trapper. In his opinion, persons retiring on $300 a month "would be a bit happier in Topeka, Kansas." He winds up: "But if you want to find peace and inspiration in your freedom, and want to harvest a few friends, look to the less-publicized towns of California — or Florida or Kansas."

To me, Carmel will always remain a unique and memorable place of friendly and understanding people, for there I met and made more friends in less than five years than I had ever made in the previous twenty years I had lived in the East Bay. I will not deny, and it is with regret that I write this, Carmel is no longer what it used to be, and neither is the well known Seventeen-Mile Drive, for tremendous changes have taken place and many of the old landmarks have vanished. Mission San Carlos de Borromeo is no longer the quaint romantic church I used to attend from time to time while mounted on my Palomino mare Consuelo, whom I used to park in the grave yard alongside the church, while I attended service, after which I would ride up the dirt road, whose name now eludes me, cross Ocean Avenue and end up at that long since gone landmark, the Bettie Greene Stables. Those were the days before anyone would have suggested parking meters on Ocean Avenue, and from the back of my horse I could order some lunch at the Blewett's Creamery. Those were the days when trails in the Del Monte Forest were available to the many equestrians that would ride forth on Sundays on those lovely trails where the cool and friendly pines would shade one in the warm days.

Yet, in my humble opinion, and contrary to Thomas Collins views, Carmel is not a well-to-do, upper class sophisticated town. Furthermore, it is possible to find peace and inspiration as well as friends there. It all depends where you are looking. It is true I had a horse that was more than a calling card, it was quite an attraction, and where else but in Carmel would my old friend, Red Eagle, have found such a friendly welcome, and been given the opportunity which I also enjoyed of entertaining the service men at the always remembered Carmel USO.

As for the people in the Seventeen-Mile Drive, I found them most cordial and far from the usual stuffed shirts one would expect from persons in their social and financial position. Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula are wonderful places, that is my answer to Thomas Collins.

I am yours very truly,

Carlos Dieguez

Editor of the Pine Cone:

Using the slogan "You CAN take them with you" 35 volunteers from the Sierra Club formed a Cleanup Work Party last week to collect the trash, mostly cans, left by campers in the vicinity of Dingleberry Lake, Inyo National Forest. The "operation cleanup" extended to other lakes between 10,000 and 11,000 feet elevation at the heavily visited Sabrina Basin in the High Sierra Wild Area along steep trails 20 miles up the Middle Fork of Bishop Creek.

The unpaid workers, business and professional men and women, college and high school students

(the youngest participant was an eager four-year-old girl) gathered, smashed and sacked two tons of rubbish, an estimated 20,000 cans (practically indestructible at this altitude), 109 sacks full. Art Schober, packer at North Lake, hauled the debris to the roadend dump by mule train free-of-charge.

Rubbish (gum wrappers, paper containers, foil, old clothes, cans, camping gear, etc.) was found alongside the trail, around the campsites, behind the logs, in the willow clumps, between the granite boulders. A member fished the lakes for cans with a magnet on a string.

Those visitors who are mistreating the most beautiful campspots in the Sierra are becoming the greatest threat to the wild lands of our national parks and forests. We saw that burying trash and trying to hide it in the wilderness severely damage the landscape. The can holes cut up the meadows and are soon eroded or uncovered by animals. There is only one adequate answer to the backcountry litter problem—each person must carry out of the mountains the cans, foil and bottles he brings with him.

The Forest Service men under the direction of Richard M. Wilson, Inyo National Forest district ranger, worked with the crew.

This cooperative effort is part of a general Sierra Nevada cleanup campaign. Chief ranger Louis W. Hallock of Sequoia-Kings National Parks announced new park policy that "all backcountry users pack out any non-combustible materials they may pack in." The Eastern and Western High Sierra Packers Associations have agreed to haul litter out of the mountains on return trips and transport Park and Forest Service workers and their cleanup equipment without charge. As part of its stepped-up litter control activity the Inyo National Forest has assigned two men for each ranger district to collect the trash in burlap sacks.

The newly revised "postscript" to the Sierra Club's popular "Now Meet Hector" pamphlet (he's the garbage collector, "Smokey the Bear's over-educated cousin") advises campers to put the cans they flatten and the foil and other unburnables in a plastic or paper litterbag which can be easily tucked into the knapsack or kayak.

"You know that wilderness is a place where you restore the soul," writes Hector. "That wilderness, too, is for wild things, not a place to toss trash over the scenery. Your example of good housekeeping, and the occasional job of cleaning up the trash left near your campsite by inconsiderate hikers, may encourage others to practice outdoor good manners. Yours for clean camps and wild wilderness."

Audience Delighted With After Dark, New Monterey First Theatre Thriller

BY CAROLYN ELSTOB

Sparkling with excitement and climactic situations, After Dark, written a century ago by Dion Boucicault, opened last Friday night at the California First Theater in Monterey to a capacity audience who granted the Troupers of the Gold Coast a standing ovation of approval at the final curtain.

Boucicault's tightly knit thriller of London's high society versus the vilest of gutter rats was, in the Victorian tradition, delightfully complicated. The romance roles, soft kisses, pledges made to be broken, innocence and nobility put-to-trial, were played by the lovely Patsy Ramsey and handsome Winston Elstob, who won the wholehearted sympathy of the audience. But, according to this reviewer, there were three male players who deserve stellar credits. Jack Muldowney as Old Tom, the down and out drunkard with heart-of-gold, carried the show. Mr. Muldowney, on stage most every moment through 10 scenes, gave a convincing piece of character acting. As Old Tom's comedy foil, Edgar Pye won roars of laughter from the audience. His timing and his dead-pan delivery were broad comedy at its best. Gene Eplett as the blood-in-thunder villain gave, as he always does, a superb performance. Derek Napier Lawford, making his first appearance on an American stage was the casual Londoner of easy elegance. Marsha Rae Howes, another newcomer played her role of the lady cousin, involved in the delightfully involved love story, with charm and ease. The tough but tender siren, Barbara Ziegweid flashed trouble and intrigue with her usual zest. Character actress Madeleine Hicks turned her all too brief appearances into moments of major interest. Orville Summers as the policeman and Al Olinger impersonating a dark character made the most of their supporting roles.

Director Charles Thomas, also responsible for the sets, has topped his many successes at the First Theater in his production of After Dark.

The Olio, 10 acts of vaudeville, MCed by the irrepressible Jack Muldowney, had the audience wide eyed with happy expectancy as each new 'turn' was announced. It would be difficult to select a "best" of the olio acts. The Plus Fours Quartette, comprised of Buck Williams, Joe Turner, Bill Monroe and Marshall Smith, was in top form, the four voices are beautifully meshed. Edgar Pye's presentation of London Music Hall ditties was worthy of what would have been known as Palace billing, in the '20's.

Barbara Ziegweid was, as always, tantalizing and alluring. Her sequin gown, her curly red hair, and her sparkling eyes, were just part of her act. It is what Barbara does with her really fine voice, plus all the rest, that wins her warm audience popularity.

The ballet from Swan Lake, the Black Bottom Tap, and the Grand Opera were all presented by the Troupers with professional aplomb.

Dene Denny, producer, has a winner. Charles Thomas has done a superb job of casting and directing, assisted by Al Olinger, stage manager; Rhoda Johnson, costuming; Laverne Seeman, props; Kay Knudsen, lighting effects; and, one-man-orchestra Susan Lee at the piano. Miss Vera Stewart is curator of the First Theater, a state monument, with Bobbie Combs at the door and Joyce Olinger at the Bar (where soft drinks are served).

After Dark followed by Olio will be presented every Friday and Saturday night at the First Theater of Monterey.

Bells Are Ringing Opens Tomorrow At The Wharf Theatre

Bells Are Ringing, gay new musical comedy opens this weekend at the Wharf Theater in Monterey. The production, which features a dozen song and dance hits, stars Pat McKnight in the role which Judy Holliday played for two smash years on Broadway.

The September 11 opening of Bells Are Ringing will start the Wharf's fall season, with performances only on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 o'clock.

Bells Are Ringing tells the funny and warm-hearted story of an operator in a telephone answering service who becomes hilariously involved with the lives of her subscribers. Among the most popular numbers are The Party's Over and Drop A Name.

Direction and choreography for the production have been assigned to Dale Lefler, dance director of the Wharf for several years. Settings and lights are by Walter Scott, Carmel designer.

Featured in the large cast are Morgan Stock, Edith Karas, Charles Burks, and Ken Vix.

Kate Williams, three firsts, three seconds and one third.

A beef showmanship award went to Bill Muscutt, who gained seventh place. Beef novice showmanship winners were Phil Zobel, first; Hazel Jacoby, third; John Vanetti, fourth.

In the novice sheep showmanship class Jennie Wolter took second place, Jeff McKenna, fourth.

"Why should a slow-poke burn me up?"

When you're driving, your attitude can kill! When the stupidity or carelessness of other drivers makes you fume, watch yourself! If you let your anger take control of your car, you can literally kill or be killed yourself! Nearly 37,000 people died in traffic accidents last year. Many were victims of good drivers who for one fatal moment allowed their emotions to boil over. Check your boiling point and stay a safe driver.

BLIND LOVE

Childlike are these hands that would point;
Guided by no sounds, no vision, at love.
Centuries perished; those to live
Are bound forever to this force,
Provided only that there is human life.
Simple this seems, but so intricate it is
That the sum of intelligencies,
Multiplied by the powers of the future,
Excepting the divinity, would be lost in it.
When did it first tint a cheek?
When did it first prompt a heart to skip?
Who first saw it in a lake's waterflames,
The zig-zag fires of a sunset?
That would be as long ago as rainbows,
But these words are as works of a blind child
Who did not learn to speak,
Trying to fingerpaint the sweetness of the night.

CORINTHIAN ACANTHUS

The pendent grace that carved, intoned this leaf by waters in sun, in moon, greened like a verdigris, or lingering argent glossed caught at the heart of Callimachus.

But, when viewing the acanthus fresh-served in votive basket by the hand of an ebon slave to a niche of her master's marble stele, he knew its innate charm!

An inarticulate eloquence lay in this vibrant leaf, compact lucidity importing an abstraction ...
Until at Corinth,
Callimachus would extract the delicate, ornate wildness of this leaf's liquid curve
as the "Corinthian Capital":
in every bell-throated column, in every white volute—
something of Helios when flaming chariots fly, something of Selene when silver harp-strings sigh.

—VERA LA CLAUSTR

Teresa Manning

Mrs. Sarah Teresa (Tessie) Manning died on August 31 in her home in Fresno after a brief illness. She had visited Carmel every summer for over 60 years. Her home, on Casanova Street between Twelfth and Thirteenth Avenues, was named The House That Jack Built, after her husband, John A. Manning, during a summer visit, constructed it with the help of one man, using Carmel beach granite for the foundation and fireplace, and redwood from Palo Colorado Canyon, for the walls.

Mrs. Manning returned to Fresno on August 13 after occupying this house since July 3. She was a member of the Carmel Art Association, the Monterey Peninsula Humane Society and attended the Bach Festival each year. Carmel artist Sam Manning is her nephew.

Mrs. Manning was born in Austin, Nevada, 80 years ago. She moved with her family to Fresno when she was 11 years old and received her early education in the Fresno schools before enrolling at the University of California from which she graduated in 1903. She was a charter member of Pi chapter of Pi Beta Phi sorority on the Berkeley campus and received a 50 year pin from this group a few years ago. She was married on December 14, 1910, in San Francisco.

Mrs. Manning was three times president of the Fresno Musical Club and one of the first two persons granted membership in the organization. She was a life member of the California Federation of Music Clubs and an accomplished pianist.

Among her other activities were memberships in the Friends of the Huntington Library in Pasadena, the Fresno Art Center, the Camellia Society of Fresno, the New England Anti-Vivisectionist Society and Friends of the Furbearers. She was a life member of the Save the Redwoods League and the Fresno County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Mrs. Manning was a life-long member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Fresno and taught in the Sunday school for over 30 years. She also was, 50 years ago, one of the founders of the Fresno Relief Society, first charitable organization in that city.

Among her Carmel friends she numbered the late Frank Powers and the late Frank Devendorf, developers of Carmel. She had watched Carmel grow from a tiny settlement into a city and was keenly interested in the cultural development of this community.

Survivors are her husband, John A. Manning, president of Fig Garden Terrace Inc. and Manning Properties; a daughter, Mrs. Winifred Hollingsworth, of Fresno; three grandsons; and her nephew, Sam Manning of Carmel.

Your Community Chest

By BRAYTON WITHERELL

Your Monterey Peninsula Community Chest is an integrated part of our Peninsula life, serving all through the 22 humane agencies without regard to age, race or color, offering care for the sick of mind and body, care for the old and helpless, hope for the discouraged, and character building organizations for youth.

It was just 30 years ago that a group of representative citizens from Carmel and the other cities and villages of the Monterey Peninsula, tired of the ever increasing number of appeals for charity fund drives of that time, formed the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest to eliminate the nuisance of what seemed to them too many separate drives, to consolidate them all into one fund-raising campaign, thus reducing campaign costs and assuring themselves that the funds contributed would be spent for the purposes intended.

The 20,000 civilian residents and 1,000 military stationed at the Presidio raised $19,841 for seven agencies which included Community Center, Salvation Army, Army and Navy YMCA, St. Vincent de Paul Welfare Society, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts (P.G.), PTA (P.G.) and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Since that day in 1929 many more agencies have taken advantage of the Chest open-door policy and have become participating members beneath the Chest umbrella until today there are 22 such health, welfare and youth agencies for which your Community Chest serves as an economical fund raising organization, governed by a volunteer board of directors, made up of 45 civic-minded men and women from all walks of life from all parts of the Peninsula who direct the policy of the Chest and determine the fair distribution of the funds raised, according to the needs of the whole community. Unfortunately, there are numerous other agencies which have remained aloof from the Chest, some because they cannot meet the high requirements of the Chest, others because they feel, either rightfully or wrongfully, that it is not to their best interests, and still others who defiantly disregard the public's often expressed desire for a more embracing united drive.

Even so, your Chest, while not all inclusive, is serving a great purpose by bringing together 22 separate agencies under the great Chest umbrella, reducing the number of drives from 22 to one. Unfortunately there are many donors who fail to realize that they are giving to so many agencies in one and do not give enough to do the job, just as there are many who today give the same amount they gave 10 or 15 years ago, forgetting that in that same period of time the number of agencies has increased 35 per cent and the costs of agency operation have tripled due to inflation and the stepped up demand for agency services by our mushrooming population. Unfortunately the dollar is not elastic.

How Do The Agencies Serve?

This year the Visiting Nurses will make 1,400 calls in the Carmel area. Many of these calls will be free. Others will be made upon Carmel residents who need nursing care but cannot afford or do not require a full time nurse. Were it not for your Community Chest donations these part time calls would cost much more than the present $4.00 charge made by the Visiting Nurse. Carmel is a better place in which to live because of your Visiting Nurses, who will make more than 10,000 calls this year.

Family Service

Family service aids both old and young and serves a vital role in our national and Peninsula welfare. Here on the Peninsula in the white house bearing the red feather of the Community Chest, Mrs. Lorraine Luker directs her staff of social and case workers, helping to solve crucial problems in marriage, child rearing and other aspects of

WHAT YOUR CHEST DONATION MEANS TO CARMEL AREA

The following compilation of the direct benefits received by Carmel from the agencies supported by donations to your Community Chest does not include such fringe benefits as Salvation Army, USO, Transient Aid, Travelers Aid, United Seaman's Association or agencies directly serving other areas. The figures are based on the percentage of increase for the first eight months of 1959 over the actual figures for the year 1958.

Boy Scouts	$ 4,459
Girl Scouts	3,270
Carmel Youth Center	7,000
Family Service	2,200
Visiting Nurse Calls	5,600
Well Baby Clinic	180

Total Direct Benefits.....$23,209

Donations from the Carmel area for the 1959 campaign amounted to $29,752, eight per cent less than the goal of $32,500.

For 1959 the Carmel area again is asked to raise 20 per cent of the total Chest goal, which amounts to $37,600.

In return Carmel area will receive in direct benefits (not counting fringe benefits listed above) amounting to $30,408.

family life and the seemingly insurmountable problems that plague so many so often.

Last year some 200 Carmel residents sought advice and help from Family Service. This year an even greater number have turned to this Chest agency for aid. The wrangling husband and wife with three children who are about to seek a divorce regardless of what it means to the youngsters; a child who hurls a rock at another, a husband pressed by mounting business problems, personal debts and a nagging family; the working mother, a divorcee with a child rapidly becoming incorrigible, all of these and many others turn to Family Service for help and Family Service responds. Without doubt this Chest agency ranks at the top in the battle against delinquency of both adult and youngster.

Unless the Chest goal is met this great service will be handicapped for lack of funds. At the present time staff salaries are so far below national average that it is impossible to maintain an adequate staff. A huge backlog of cases is piling up daily.

It costs more than $14,000 to run the Carmel Youth Center for one year and of this amount $10,649 will be provided by your Community Chest for 1960, if your Chest goal is met. If it is not met your Carmel Youth Center will be forced to close its doors one or two days a week or you will be faced with a second campaign for additional funds to make up the discrepancy caused by apathy toward your Chest campaign. Neither alternative is good.

We here on the Peninsula are very fortunate that delinquency among our youngsters is almost non-existent. I wonder how many who criticize, unjustifiably, because about half of the Chest funds go to character building activities for youth, realize what an important part the youth centers, recreation clubs and neighborhood centers supported by your donations to the Chest have played in bringing out the best in these fine

CONSTELLATIONS OF THE ZODIAC - VIRGO, THE MAIDEN

BY HOWELL ARMOR

The last constellation of Summer is Virgo, the Maiden, 24 August to 23 September. Man probably first told time by the sun's height shown by his ten fingers fanned across the sky for ten hours of daylight. Ten bright stars and their constellations were selected for the same purpose at night. But ten is almost as bad a number to divide as 13, the lunar months in a solar year, so the large

Murray To Conduct Interior Decoration Class At Gallery

"Many a craft-minded home carpenter needs only a good picture and some well sharpened tools to create pieces of furniture that are of real value," says Carmel interior designer Walter Murray. With economy in constant view, the average adult should have no difficulty in designing a functional and attractive home. In an adult evening class at the Carmel Art Association Gallery, Walter Murray will discuss numerous facets of Interior Decoration on a Limited Budget.

Presented by University Extension, the class begins Tuesday evening, September 15 at 7:30 o'clock. Murray, an extension instructor for seven years, has also taught at Sacramento State College, San Francisco State College, and summer session at the University of California in Berkeley.

Each two-hour class session will include a lecture period, question and answer period, and general discussion and analysis. Color slides, films and samples will supplement the lectures.

Among the topics to be considered during the class meetings are the importance of backgrounds, renovation of old walls by means of paint, wallpaper and other materials, simple structural changes in old homes, development of the color scheme, selection and arrangement of furniture and decorative accessories.

Interested persons are invited to attend the first meeting on Tuesday, September 15.

There is a fee for University Extension classes.

sign, Scorpio, was divided, Virgo added for the Harvest and Libra for the Autumn equinox to make 12 signs, 12 months of the year and 12 hours of the day and night. Thus could the seasons be three months each and night watches be set in two, three, or four hours.

Virgo is the World Virgin, sign of the Harvest, the fruits of Earth. The blue-white, first magnitude star, Spica, represents the spike of wheat in her arms. She is Isis, Venus, Ceres, Diana, Proserpine, Hecate, Helen of Troy, the Gallic Hertha. Her fruitfulness as mother of all Nature, rather than her innocence, is her significance. Her bounty is the service of mankind, carrying him through the barren winter.

In the last 300 years before the Christian Era, she stood in the East at the Equinoxes, the festivals of Ceres, and Spica, as morning star, heralded the sunrise. Virgo is the woman clothed with the sun, the moon beneath her feet, upon her head a crown of 12 stars, described in the 12th chapter of Revelations. Christian art has so depicted the Virgin Mary. The symbol for Virgo is said to be a monogram of the Holy Virgin.

Follow the curve of the dipper's handle southeast through Arcturus to Spica, and these stars form a triangle with Denebola in Leo. In Virgo is a cluster of several hundred galaxies 14 million light years distant. A few of the brighter spiral nebulae may be seen with a small telescope.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

As any mother knows, it's usually hard to keep kids away from the phone. They love to use it. And it's important they learn how to use it properly when they're young. That's why we put together "Adventures in Telezonia." It's a teaching kit, complete with puppet movie, shown above, that shows grade school students how best to use the telephone. We worked it out at the request of teachers and with their assistance. It teaches the right way to make calls, including those from public phones. And this training helps everybody get better telephone service. "Adventures in Telezonia" is available to schools just for the asking.

September's back-to-school time in a lot of families. Time to remember that a long distance call is a fine way to keep in touch with the kids away from home. Why not plan now to set aside a certain night each week for a telephone visit with your favorite student. And station-to-station rates are lower after 6 p.m. weekdays and all day Sunday, you know—even lower than you might think. Pacific Telephone

Dan reports that a "monster" movie, for which he has written the script, is being produced in England. He and his wife, Lilith, some years ago, wrote the book for the musical Bloomer Girl.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Fifty years ago Tuesday in Grand Forks, North Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Kennedy were married. They lived in Grand Forks until almost two years ago, then came to Carmel to make their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Bartlett.

On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Bartlett, with her two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd M. Suhr and Mrs. Jerome S. Determan, will give a golden wedding anniversary party for their parents in the Garden Room of the Church of the Wayfarer. No formal invitations have been issued. Carmel friends of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy are asked to come between 2:00 and 5:00 o'clock to greet them at the reception in honor of their 50 years of wedded life.

Mrs. Suhr, with her daughter, Nancy, arrived in Carmel on Tuesday from Belfair, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Determan with their children, Michael, Timothy and Peggy Beth, have come from Guam where Mr. Determan is a civilian employee of the Naval Air Corps.

Unable to be present at their parents' golden wedding party are Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's two sons, George M. Kennedy, professor of geography at State Teachers College, Valley City, North Dakota, and Everett T. Kennedy, engineer and announcer for a television studio in West Frankfort, Illinois.

Dean To Be At Stanford Party

On Sunday afternoon Dean Donald H. Winbigler will meet Carmel students entering Stanford University this month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ricklefs, Forest Lake Road, Pebble Beach from 2:00-3:00 o'clock. Parents of the students are also invited to meet Dean Winbigler at this time.

Following the freshman meeting with Dean Winbigler, all former and present Stanford students in this area are invited to the Ricklefs' home from 3:00-5:00 o'clock. Two movies sent from the university will be shown. They are Wind of Freedom and Stanford in Germany.

Any Stanford alumni who has not received an invitation to Sunday's party is asked to telephone Mrs. DeForest Reichard, MA 4-7426.

Varda Show Opens Tonight

Artist Jean Varda from Sausalito is the guest of Mrs. Marie Short this week. He is in Carmel for the opening of his one-man show of collages at the Feingarten Galleries this evening.

Varda lived on the Peninsula and at Big Sur before moving to the Bay area. On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Everett Banfield of Carmel Highlands invited Peninsula friends of Jean Varda to a cocktail party at their home. Varda recently returned from a year in New York where he taught at the Pratt Institute. Tuesday's party was the first time many of his local friends had seen him since his return from the east. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Banfield in receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Banfield Jr. and Mrs. Francis Kibler, daughter of the host and hostess.

The former ferryboat Vallejo, built in 1879, which plied across San Francisco Bay for many years, has been converted into a home by Jean Varda. It is moored along the Sausalito waterfront. In his studio on this oldtime ferry, Varda creates from varied materials the collages which have won him international recognition.

Loftons Back In Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton and their younger daughter, Melissa, are back in Carmel. They arrived on Friday after a summer spent visiting Mrs. Lofton's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Shallert in Florida. Mr. Lofton's home in McLellanville, South Carolina, and relatives throughout the southern states.

Their older daughter, Nancy, who completed her freshman year at St. John's College at Annapolis, Maryland, in June, has transferred to Erskine College in Due West, South Carolina, and remained in the south when the rest of her family returned home. Impressions of the varied localities the Loftons visited have been painted by Mr. Lofton, one of Carmel's most active artists.

MPVS Announcement Luncheon

Last Friday, at a luncheon meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, Mrs. John O. Simpson, president, announced that the recent MPVS Garden Tour had realized $3,017.60. She presented a check for this amount to Gerald Keith, president of the Visiting Nurse Association, to be used for the Peninsula-wide work of the VNA organization.

Following the luncheon, Claude T. Faw of Carmel showed colored slides he had made of the gardens on this year's tour. Owners of the gardens were invited as guests of honor to the MPVS luncheon at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club. They were Mrs. Charles A. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Mehr Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Moller, Mrs. Green Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Devlin and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. D. Kirsopp.

Mr. Keith in his speech of appreciation for the funds raised by MPVS, stressed the fact that proceeds of the first garden tour in 1952 made possible the founding of the Visiting Nurse Association on the Peninsula. Since that time MPVS contributions to the free nursing service amount to $19,817.60. This amount was realized from the proceeds of eight annual garden tours.

A basket of flowers was presented to Mrs. E. J. Murray, garden tour chairman, by MPVS members in appreciation of her work.

New MPVS members introduced at the luncheon were Mrs. Charles I. Fox and Miss Irene Palmer, both Carmel residents.

Town House Program, Classes

On Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Atter will show some of the color slides of photographs they made, mostly in Surrey and Hampshire, on their most recent trip to England. Tea will be served following the program.

Paintings by the late Emily Balsam are on display at Town House during September, through the kindness of her husband, Colonel Alfred S. Balsam.

The French conversation class, discontinued during the summer, will resume sessions on Monday at 11:00 o'clock. The German conversation group also meets on Mondays from 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock; Spanish conversation on Monday afternoons, 2:00 to 3:00 o'clock.

Beth Gamble, Joe Danysh Wed

Friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Gamble learned this week of her marriage to Joe Danysh on July 29 in Tijuana, Mexico. They are living in Carmel in a house at Scenic Drive and Eighth Avenue, into which they recently moved. It is next door to the home previously occupied by Mrs. Danysh.

Joe Danysh retired on September 1 from his position as president of the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland. He will now be associated with Mrs. Danysh in running Casa Manana, the Monterey business they have purchased. However, before taking over the management of the business, Mr. Danysh plans to redecorate their new home.

Living with Mr. and Mrs. Danysh are Mrs. Danysh's daughter, Mary Gamble, who will be a freshman at Carmel High School this year, Mr. Danysh's son, Eric, and Mrs. Danysh's son, John. Both boys enrolled in the seventh grade at Sunset School this morning.

Joe Danysh, a frequent Carmel visitor, lived here when he was head of the California WPA Art Project. For the past year Mrs. Danysh has been running Casa Manana for Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Watkins who were traveling in Europe.

Old Adobe House Tour

Eleven historic houses in Monterey will be opened to the public on September 19 from 1:00-9:00 o'clock. The occasion is the annual Old Adobe House Tour of the Monterey History and Art Association Ltd. Funds raised by the tour will be used to restore Casa Serrano.

Evening hours have been added this year to the event to allow the public to see, by candlelight, houses which have been occupied for more than a quarter of a century. Hostesses in early California costumes will welcome visitors at some of the adobes loaned by the owners to the association for their annual fund-raising event.

The Monterey History and Art Association was founded in 1931 by a group of men and women who wished to protect historic sites, landmarks and buildings of Old Monterey.

Tickets for the Adobe House Tour may be purchased from the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Carmel Revisited

Mike Mott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Mott (Maryann Hopper) of North Wales, near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is the guest of Mrs. Joseph A. Michela.

A third year architecture student at North Carolina State College, Mike is revisiting Carmel after an absence of nine years. He is the grandson of the late James Hopper, writer and member of the group, led by George Sterling, that settled in Carmel following the San Francisco earthquake.

Mike is an athlete, having played on football and lacrosse teams at Cornell University. He is interested, on this visit, in hearing about his grandfather who was a member of the University of California football team that originally stole the Stanford axe, in the early, rugged days of west coast football.

Unlimited Iron Curtain Visa

Boz Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams, arrived home from Europe by jet flight on Friday. He stopped overnight in Boston before flying to San Francisco, but still amazed his parents by remarking, "day before yesterday when I was in Amsterdam."

He left in June to spend the summer on a Mennonite work project in Germany. Lee Harms of Carmel also was a member of the group of students who restored Haus Lippenjackl. The large house will be used as a recreation center for young people by the Evangelical Church of Austria.

After the work period, Boz and Lee met Milton and Jane Mayer of Carmel in Vienna. In a group of nine, led by the Mayers, they traveled in Czechoslovakia for three weeks as guests of the Lutheran Church. Then the Mayer group entered East Germany with what they understood were the first unlimited visas issued.

They spent two nights in Leipzig in the apartment of the president of the university which was loaned for their use, then traveled the autobahn to West Germany. Lee and Boz visited Berlin and Rotterdam, then parted. Lee continued to London and will return on a student ship to the United States and go straight to Ohio to enter his freshman year at Antioch College. Boz visited Paris before flying home from Amsterdam. He will be a senior at Carmel High School this year.

Last year Bill hit bonanza conditions, an extraordinary minus tide and a deserted beach. His score on this occasion was 47 balls in 30 minutes.

They bid one another goodbye with plans to meet again at Christmas time when they return to Carmel. Lynne will enroll at College of the Pacific this month. Also entering COP will be Gail da Roza.

CHURCHESCHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The unlimited availability of divine supply will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" include the account in II Kings (4) of Elisha's feeding of a hundred men with twenty loaves.

Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (494:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The Golden Text is from James (1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variable-ness, neither shadow of turning."

Your Community Chest

Peninsula teenagers. Let us not lose sight of what is happening in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and other large cities because proper recreation has not been provided for youth.

Boy Scouts

Here in Carmel there are 300 enrolled Scouts. On the Peninsula there are 2,300 Boy Scouts, and yet this figure, proud as we may be of it, is 30 per cent below the national average of enrollment of eligible Scouts and the reason is insufficient funds. A Scout can go to Camp Pico Blanco for $18 a week because your donations make this possible. Without the backing of your Community Chest this camp would cost $57 a week per boy. And did you know that Al Young, head of the Boy Scout organization in this area, without whose leadership and executive ability there would be no Camp Pico Blanco, refused to accept a salary increase voted him three years ago, but has turned that money back into the Scout movement where he knew it was needed? Is it right that dedicated men and women should be penalized because as citizens we of the Peninsula will not make the necessary small sacrifices needed to assure this organization, and all other Chest agencies, of sufficient funds to do the very job we ask them to do.

Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts under the able leadership of Mrs. Gordon Reid of Carmel is helping to train the girls of this Peninsula to assume their future responsibilities in the home and serve their community and their nation with honor. The all embracing program of Girl Scouts made possible only through your Chest donation trains these young girls to be better citizens, wives and mothers and is the nucleus of a strong nation in the days to come.

USO

USO provides a homelike atmosphere for the men and women of our armed services, entertainment in the far away places dispels loneliness and its consequent problems. Your Chest allots $10,594 to this great national organization, which is supported entirely by donations to Community Chest, United Funds and Crusades across the nation. What many do not realize is that the national USO to whom the $10,594 is sent returns the sum of $34,000 to run our Peninsula USO and to see to it that those from Carmel and the rest of the Peninsula now serving their country will find a USO waiting for them wherever they go. Surely an investment of $10,000 that returns $34,000 is worthy of support.

Peninsula Society for Alcoholism
This agency, under the able direction of Mary Clark, is facing this destructive health problem with trained efficiency on the Monterey Peninsula, etc. There are more than 5,000 alcoholics in this area. This wonderful work, free to all who cannot pay, and charged for at a nominal sum by those who can, is rehabilitating people who had no future and were ashamed of their past. Alcoholism is today recognized as a disease and the local committee works in close conjunction with two other great Chest agencies, Family Service and Visiting Nurse.

Free Hot Lunches

There are those who do not realize that there is need for the more than 20,000 free hot lunches served in the schools of our cities on this Peninsula. Yet the school nurse reports that some children are so hungry that they scavenge for food in the schools at lunch time, two or three together, searching the garbage pails for the leftover pieces from the lunch bags of their more fortunate school mates. Your donations to your Chest are the only means of providing these youngsters with hot food. Surely anyone should be willing to go without to see that another does not go hungry, especially a child.

Salvation Army

Another Chest agency, during the past seven months, has provided furnishings for families burned out of their homes, a wheel chair for a cripple, dentures for a nine-year-old boy, glasses for two children and an eye operation for another. This great humanitarian Salvation Army is dependent upon your donations to your Community Chest. Whether individual or mass disaster the Salvation Army provides clothes, food, aid for the sick in mind, shelter for the homeless, comfort and aid for unwed mothers, shelter for the homeless and spiritual aid for all.

Each agency is directed by dedicated men and women striving, each in his own way to make this a better world in which to live. Surely you each of you, can make some sacrifice to see that the great work done by the 22 agencies beneath the Chest umbrella shall continue undisturbed.

If everyone will assume their fair share and sufficient men and women will volunteer to go from door to door to solicit funds, the Chest goal of $188,137 will be met.

It only costs five cents a day for one year to make a gift of $18 and only 10 cents a day, for one year, to give $36 to your Chest.

Thomas Jefferson said: "It is the duty of every man to give a generous amount to aid others and it is further his duty to see to it that that money is properly expended." If you contribute to your Community Chest, your Community Chest will see to it that the money is "properly expended."

A ranch breakfast will be served from 9:00 - 11:00 o'clock, luncheon at the canteen from 11:00 on.

William E. Martin

William E. Martin, member of a pioneer Carmel Valley ranching family, died this morning in a local hospital following a short illness.

Mr. Martin was born on his father's ranch at the mouth of the Valley on February 13, 1873. His father, John Martin, emigrated from Scotland to Canada in 1840. Later he heard of the discovery of gold in California and traveled by steamboat to Panama, crossed the Isthmus, and came by ship to Monterey, landing in 1856. Observing the farming opportunities here he abandoned the idea of proceeding to the gold mines and acquired land near the Mission which he named the Mission Ranch. In 1871 he returned to Canada and married Elizabeth Stewart, whom he brought back to Carmel.

Their son, William E. Martin attended Bay School in the early days when he and his brothers sometimes had to wade through the flood waters of the Carmel River.

From 1903-1906, Mr. Martin was deputy clerk of Monterey County. His marriage to Anna Hatton took place in 1903. In 1908 he purchased land in Carmel Valley on which he lived until the time of his death.

Mr. Martin served on the selective service board in this area in both World Wars I and II. He was a 50-year member of Alisal Lodge No. 163, I.O.O.F., of Salinas.

Survivors are his son, Hatton J. Martin of Hollister; a daughter, Mrs. Emily M. Williams of Carmel Valley; four grandchildren, Gordon and Bob Martin of Stockton, John Williams of Davis and Kate Williams of Carmel Valley; two brothers, Carmel Martin of Monterey and Roy Martin of Carmel Valley; and a sister, Mrs. Isabel Leidig of Carmel.

Funeral services are pending and will be announced later by Paul Mortuary.

W. H. Whitney

Winthrop H. Whitney, descendant of Eli Whitney and member of a family of New England industrialists, died yesterday in his home in Robles del Rio, Carmel Valley, after an illness of several months. Until two and a half years ago he had resided in Hartford, Connecticut.

Mr. Whitney's grandfather, Amos Whitney, founded the Pratt and Whitney Company of Hartford. For 35 years Winthrop E. Whitney was chairman of the board of Whitney Chain Company. Three years ago he assumed ownership of Hansen, Whitney, a machine tool company.

He was a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His memberships included the Superintendent Stuart Mitchell says that next week he expects the enrollment to climb to the accustomed 12 per cent increase each year. School opening this morning was at the end of the week. Next week the number of students is expected to increase when families return from vacations.

Town Hall in November 1960. He has appeared several times in Carnegie Recital Hall concerts and has a bachelor and master's degree in music from Manhattan School of Music, also a master of arts degree from Columbia University.

His program will include selections of Handel, Haydn, Beethoven, Chopin and Schumann.

A.A.S.R. Valley Lodge of Connecticut, the Farmington Country Club, the Hartford Golf Club, the Wampanoag Country Club, the Masonic Lodge of Hartford and the Sphinx Consistory of the Valley of Norwich, Connecticut. Locally he belongs to the Beach Club.

Survivors are his wife, Elsie J. Whitney of Carmel Valley; a son, Bruce S. Whitney of Santa Clara; a brother, Lawrence Whitney of Boulder, Colorado; two sisters, Mrs. Robert T. Stevens of Plainfield, New Jersey, and Mrs. John Hawkinson of Hartford, Connecticut; his mother, Mrs. Nellie Whitney of Hartford; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium on Saturday morning at 11:00 o'clock. Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

James H. Fuller

James H. Fuller, for 18 years city treasurer of Aberdeen, Washington, died this morning in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Paul K. Hill, after a brief illness.

Mr. Fuller was born on September 30, 1870, near Knowlton in the Canadian province of Quebec. When he was 16 years old he accompanied his family to Illinois. In 1899 he moved to Aberdeen, Washington, where he lived until a year and three months ago when he retired and came to Carmel.

Mr. Fuller was a life and charter member of the Elks Lodge in Aberdeen, for 50 years a member of Aberdeen Lodge No. 52, F. & A. M., an honorary member of both the Aberdeen Kiwanis Club and the Gray's Harbor Country Club. He also belonged to the Washington State Seniors Golf Association and the Aberdeen Congregational Church.

Survivors, in addition to his daughter in Carmel, are his wife, Ethel L. Fuller of Carmel; a son, David D. Fuller, and a brother, M. W. Fuller, both of Aberdeen, Washington; and seven grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Those wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Fuller are asked to do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Cancer Society, Box 1028, Monterey.
